DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions, which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Claims 1-10 provide for the use of coumestans compound of formula I or pharmaceutically acceptable salts thereof, or an extract containing the coumestans compound of formula I or pharmaceutically acceptable salts thereof in the manufacture of a medicament for the treatment or prevention of arthritis, but, since the claims do not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to claim. Given that these claims may have dual interpretation either as a method of preparation or as a method of treatment, these claims are being interpreted herein as optionally both a method of preparing a medicament and a method of treating.

I. Group I, claims 1-8 are drawn to a method for preparing a medicament for the treatment or prevention of arthritis comprising a coumestans compound of formula I, II. Group II, claims 1-7 are drawn to a method for treating arthritis comprising administering to a patient a coumestans compound of the aforementioned formula I or pharmaceutically acceptable salt or an extract containing the aforementioned compound of formula I.

III. Group III, claims 9-10 are drawn to a dietary supplement or pharmaceutical composition comprising a coumestans compound of the aforementioned formula I or pharmaceutically acceptable salt or an extract containing the aforementioned compound of formula I and a carrier.

The inventions listed as Groups I, II and III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features.

An international application should relate to only one invention or, if there is more than one invention, the inclusion of those inventions in one international application is only permitted if all inventions are so linked as to form a single general inventive concept (PCT Rule 13.1). With respect to a group of inventions claimed in an international application, unity of invention exists only when there is a technical relationship among the claimed inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features.

The expression "special technical features" is defined in PCT Rule 13.2 as meaning those technical features that define a contribution which each of the inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. The determination is made on the contents of the claims as interpreted in light of the description and drawings. Whether or not any specific technical feature makes a "contribution" over the prior art, and therefore constitutes a "special technical feature", should be considered with respect to novelty and inventive step.

In this instant application, the common technical feature in all groups is the compound of formula I. This compound of formula I cannot be said to be a special technical feature under PCT Rule 13.2 because it is shown in the prior art.

In this case, Yuan et al. (US Patent 6,552,071 B2) teach compositions containing wedelolactone (i.e. a compound of the aforementioned formula I) in a pharmaceutically acceptable carrier (see abstract and col. 1-2). As a result, no special technical features exist among the different groups because the inventions in Groups I, II and III fail to make a contribution over the prior art with respect to novelty and inventive step. In conclusion, there is a lack of unity of inventions, and therefore restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Species Election

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species either possess divergent structures and/or different chemical and physical properties. Thus, these species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species listed below do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same special technical feature among the different species.

The species are as follows:

1) for Groups I, II, and III:

a) Applicant is required to elect a particular compound of the aforementioned formula I. Alternatively, applicant may elect the particular compound listed in claim 5.

2) for Group III only:

a) Applicant is required to elect the particular active ingredient (s) to be added to the composition containing the compound of the aforementioned formula I. Alternatively, applicant may elect a particular active ingredient listed in claim 10.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).
The following claims 1-10 are generic.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Applicant is also reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

No telephone call was made due to the complexity of the election/restriction.
